

‘A New Beginning’

A New Beginning

With new vigor and exhilarating zest palpitating heart, prepared mind, restless soul, stepping ahead to resolve a new quest

A tiny little drop brought up with utmost care had now to depart from heavenly clouds and enter into the new world to pay his fare In the form of rain the droplets have to fall to serve the nation, the very purpose of the mighty creation

*The excitement should not go in vain Needs the magical power to light up the lane
The winds should lift him and carry him on his way
For the dazzling thunderstorm would not let him make his way*

The eyes in search of not just a guide not just a supporter or a counselor But someone special some so intimate, so close as his father else the mere drop would land anywhere rather....
